Some Reinforcements Have Reached Airborne Units

Huge Damage Inflicted On Jap Sea-Air Power

Report 405 Enemy Planes
And 195 Ships Blasted In Philippine Attacks

TROOP CONVOY ALSO DESTROYED

By RICHARD V. HALLER
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 25.—Continuing to lash enemy shipping and positions in the Philippines, American carrier-based aircraft hit Jap sea and air power with avenging fury in a two-day assault Sept. 20-21, leaving behind the smoking ruins of another 405 enemy planes destroyed or damaged and 105 ships sunk or damaged, including two floating dry-docks.

The latest carrier strike against the former United States possession was announced in a special communique from Pacific fleet headquarters.

At the same time, a later bulletin disclosed the complete destruction of a 13-barge, troop-laden convoy by our warships in the waters around Peleliu Island.

At Cavite Base
Targets of the shattering new blows by Admiral William F. Halsey's Third Fleet were Clark and Nichols airfields near Manila, and at Cavite naval base in Manila harbor, once America's strongest naval base in Asiatic waters.

In addition to the terrific losses to Jap shipping and aircraft, the communique said the fleet striking force did "extensive and widespread" damage to buildings, railway equipment, warehouses, oil storage tanks, harbor installations, hangars, shops and stored supplies. Cost to the Third Fleet assault forces in the daring and highly successful strike was reported to be 11 planes, 10 pilots and five air crew.

PA NEWC Observes

This morning was the foggiest morning of September. It was so thick one could cut it with a knife. One auto party seeking relatives on the North Hill got lost. Other drivers coming south had to be especially cautious operating south on North Mercer street.

Groups of small boys carrying large bags could be seen in the rural districts early Sunday morning. They were on a hunt for nuts the frost of Friday night having brought in nut season. There are many butternuts this year according to reports.

The first heavy frost of the season arrived Saturday night and a lot of gardens were a sad sight Sunday morning. Tomatoes, peppers, squashes and gourds were heavy casualties.

Unregistered voters should remember that there is not much time left to attend to this vital duty of citizenship. Last day for registering to vote in the November election is October 7.

Sunday evening there were eight blooms on the two night blooming cereus cactus plants belonging to Mrs. Michael Lenko of 1108 Cunningham avenue. The blooms are large, white, and fragrant. This species of cactus generally blooms once every 7 or 8 years. Both of Mrs. Lenko's cereus bloomed in 1942, having nine blooms, 1943 July and August, one.

MASS SURRENDER OF NAZIS

President's Charge Of "Malicious Falsehood" Aimed At G.O.P. Candidate Starts Action

By WILLIAM THIES
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—President Roosevelt's opening political speech accused the Republicans of fraud and "malicious falsehood" served notice on the nation's voters today that the chips were down for a slam-bang 1944 campaign.

Even as Democratic leaders were cheering the fighting character of the president's words, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, his Republican opponent, promptly took up the challenge. He promised to answer in kind—starting with his speech tonight in Oklahoma City.

Aside from indicating that the fourth term drive will be to ignore no GOP threat, Mr. Roosevelt's address to the AFL teamsters union held these points of significance to Washington observers:

Significant Points
1—Resurrection of the "New Deal" tag, first reclaimed by Vice President Wallace, as a still fitting emblem for 1944. The president used the term several times, once rebuking the Republicans for "passing off as the New Deal."

2—An implied acceptance of support from Sidney Hillman's CIO political action committee, a high official action committee, a high official action committee, a high official action committee.

NELSON TO REPORT ON TRIP TO CHINA

Former WPB Chairman Brings Back Recommendations From Chiang Kai-Shek

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(INS)—War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson, who returned from China yesterday, plans to confer with President Roosevelt today or tomorrow on plans to bring more of China's industrial potential into the war effort.

Nelson said he brought back with him a set of recommendations submitted to an approved by generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek for increasing China's war effort.

Nelson said he expects to return to China before the end of the year. Some quarters believed this strengthened reports that he would not take up his WPB duties now held by acting Chairman J. A. Krug, who was appointed by President Roosevelt.

Yugoslav Patriots Capture Banja Luka

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(INS)—Liberation of Banja Luka, second largest town in Bosnia, was announced today in a communique from the headquarters of Yugoslav Leader Marshal Tito.

Huge Forces Of Allied Four-Engine Bombers Cross Channel To Hit Enemy

LONDON, Sept. 25.—(INS)—Huge forces of Allied four-engine bombers roared across the English channel this morning flying through improved weather at low altitudes.

The heavy bombers appeared to be headed for Calais, where RAF bombers battered the German hold out garrison last night in stormy weather.

Germans Alerted
The first flights of heavies crossed the English coast shortly after 3:30 a. m. (English time) and by 9:30 a. m. Three huge waves of bombers had disappeared in the direction of the continent.

The formations apparently were engaged in a non-stop pounding of German defenders of Calais.

(The German home radio warned that formations of bombers were headed for western and southwest sections of the Reich, according to the FCC.)

English coastal observers declared that weather conditions were very good for providing aerial support for embattled Allied airborne units fighting in Nazi territory in the area about Arnhem, Holland.

Yanks Advance Toward Spezia

BULLETIN

LONDON, Sept. 25.—(INS)—The Algers radio reported today that troops of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's fifth army were advancing swiftly up the Italian west coast toward the naval base of Spezia.

Spezia, lying 40 airline miles northwest of Pisa, is the only major west coast Italian seaport remaining in Axis hands with the exception of Genoa.

An advance on Spezia would mean that Allied forces have rolled through the western flank of the Gothic line, as well as smashing into the Futa pass in the line's center and rolling up past Rimini to knock out the eastern anchor of the famed German defenses.

Full Publicity To Be Demanded On Pearl Harbor

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(INS)—Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) disclosed today that he will demand "full publicity" when the Army-Navy investigation of the Pearl Harbor disaster is completed.

Hungary Border Reached By Reds Says One Report

Unofficial Sources In Moscow Say Troops Also In Czechoslovakia

ESTONIAN NAVAL BASE IS SEIZED

By NATALIA RENE
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Sept. 25.—Russian troops have crossed the Carpathian mountains into Czechoslovakia, and have breached the pre-war border of Hungary, according to unofficial sources in Moscow today.

The Reds are "well inside" Slovakia after routing a German garrison at a border town, these informants said, while the Hungarian crossing was made near Arad.

The regular Soviet communique announced seizure of the Estonian naval base at Baltisky, an important Nazi stronghold on a promontory where the Gulf of Finland and the Baltic Sea meet.

Port Is Stormed
Soviet marines and warships, joining in the Baltic offensive, which already has trapped thousands of Germans in upper Estonia and Latvia stormed the port in an amphibious operation. Baltisky is the terminus of the railway west from recently captured Tallinn.

Upwards of 650 additional towns and villages fell to the Russians, who for days have been sweeping through the Baltic states at a rate of some two miles an hour.

Control of Baltisky puts the Russians in an advantageous position for smashing seaward evacuation efforts by any German troops trying to get out of southern Finland.

New York Mayor Reported Selected For Post In Italy

By LEON PEARSON
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York, it was learned today, has been selected by President Roosevelt to take over the direction of civilian problems in the liberated areas of Italy.

According to Washington officials, this decision was reached by President Roosevelt at his recent Quebec conference with British Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

The president disclosed last week that he and the prime minister had discussed the Italian problem of their meeting and had determined to see to it that the Italian people do not starve or freeze during the coming winter.

Revelation of the plan to send La Guardia to Italy recalled the fact that he had desired such a post for a long time.

TWIN SISTERS NOW DUET MOTHERS

Six hours after the stork came to Mrs. Charles Perry (right, with her daughter), he had to make a return trip—same day, same Pawtucket, R. I. hospital—to Mrs. Perry's twin sister, Mrs. John J. Weeks (left, with her own daughter, who's yawning). The fortunate fathers are U. S. Navy men, now in service somewhere overseas.

Through German
Defenses

FIERCE RESISTANCE BEING BEATEN BACK

By JAMES L. KILGALLIN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Sept. 25.—Fifth Army battlers of Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark smashed savagely through stubborn German defenses today to widen their gap in the center of the Gothic line and seize positions marking the farthest Allied advance to the north in Italy.

Beating back fierce resistance, the Fifth Army units fought over mountain roads and trails, over sheer rocks and ledges, to gain advance footholds below Castel Del Rio and Reco.

Brazilian troops of the Fifth Army participated in the action, making some gains against the enemy.

Slash Ahead
In the center of the Gothic line, Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's battlers slashed ahead in the vital Futa Pass region, and farther to the east, British and Indian units of the Fifth Army scored important gains.

On the Adriatic flank of the line, where Eighth Army fighters stormed past captured Rimini to slice up the Po Valley in a drive to cut off German units at the Gothic line, heavy fighting developed as Nazi Marshal Kesselring's men fought desperately to stave off complete disaster.

(A report from radio Algiers said that Fifth Army men on the west flank of the front were driving past the Gothic line towards the Tyrrhenian Sea.)

Jap Positions Being Blasted Without Halt

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Sept. 25.—The blasting of Japanese positions in the Moluccas, Celebes and other areas of the Pacific theater continued today without letup.

In the Halmahera area light naval units blockaded coast lines and strafed coastal defense installations. One enemy plane struck back at Pitu beach but failed to cause damage or casualties.

Medium bombers and fighters struck the Haruku and Bula airdromes in the Ceram-Baru sector, leaving huge craters in runways and starting fires. Attack planes hit enemy-occupied villages. Fighters on coastal sweeps destroyed or seriously damaged two luggers, nine barges and numerous coastal craft, while in the Celebes heavy bombers dropped 150 tons of high explosives on Sidate and Mapangit airdromes.

Sudden Break In Weather Would Aid Battle In Holland

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(International News Service Foreign Editor)

A sudden break in foul weather that has prevailed over Europe during the past week raised hopes today of an early end to the crisis of Arnhem, where units of the Allied First Airborne Army still battled against terrific odds while relief troops fought slowly and painfully across Holland's Lek river to their rescue.

There was no announcement of weather improvement for such information is in the realm of military secret.

But air force headquarters in London did disclose that for the first time in several days a gigantic fleet of more than 1,200 American heavy bombers, strongly escorted by fighter planes, had lifted their wings from British bases and roared into Germany for devastating attacks upon objectives at Frankfurt, Coblenz and Ludwigshafen.

Require Good Weather
Operations on this mass scale require perfect weather conditions and it therefore may be assumed that some improvement at least has been recorded at Arnhem and the (Continued on Page Two)

Dewey Aroused By Assertions Of President

Roosevelt's Address Will Bring Fiery Response
From G.O.P. Candidate

By LEO W. O'BRIEN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD DEWEY CAMPAIGN TRAIN EN ROUTE OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 25.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, stung to a fighting pitch by President Roosevelt's charge that he has employed Hitleresque methods in his campaign, heads into Oklahoma City today for what promises to be the most fiery speech of his public career.

As the Republican presidential nominee rode across New Mexico and Texas last night, he ripped into sheds his tentative Oklahoma City speech, seventh and last of his 6,700-mile tour, and wrote instead a talk which tears into the Roosevelt record.

No Punches To Be Pulled
The Dewey who issued a statement yesterday that hereafter no punches will be pulled against an adversary who "has sunk to mere quoting from 'Mein Kampf' and to charges of 'fraud' and 'falsehood'" was reminiscent of the hard-hitting prosecutor who fought his racket-busting exploits.

"In six speeches since the opening of this campaign," he said, "I have started to show the course I believe our country should take in the (Continued on Page Six)

Hour For Action' Eisenhower Tells Workers In Germany

(BULLETIN)

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(INS)—A spokesman for General Dwight D. Eisenhower today called upon foreign workers inside Germany for "immediate action," and promised they would be supplied at once with "instruments" for active resistance.

"The hour for action has come!" said the message from the Staff spokesman, which was broadcast by the British Broadcasting Corporation and the American Broadcasting station in Europe (ABSE) and reported by the Office of War Information.

FIRST FROST OF SEASON OBSERVED
Local residents who got up early Sunday morning noticed that roofs and vegetation were covered with a heavy coating of frost, the first of the season. The temperature got down to 30 degrees here in the city with lower points being noted elsewhere.

Much of the tender vegetation in exposed places was killed off. Last year the first killing frost occurred on September 12.

Plane Crash Kills Paratroopers, Crew

Tragedy Occurs Sunday Evening
During Maneuvers At North Carolina Camp

CAMP MACKALL, N. C., Sept. 25.—(INS)—Twelve airborne troops were dead today after a P-47 transport plane crashed in flames at Camp Mackall, N. C. last night during an airborne division's North Carolina war games.

The troops which included four troop carrier command plane crew members and eight paratroopers went down in their flaming death in a corn field before the horrified view of 300 high ranking army officers and newsmen attending the maneuvers.

Names of the dead were withheld until the next of kin have been notified.

Camp Mackall public relations office also disclosed that 30 other airborne troops including glider and paratroop units were treated for injuries during the operations last night.

Sudden Allied Thrust Is

With Success

SOME AID REACHES BESIEGED FORCES

BULLETIN

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Sept. 25.—(INS)—Allied troops seeking to put a speedy end to the virtual stalemate in Holland ripped across the German border in a new sector near the Reichswald forest today and a British column pushed closer to consolidation with airborne units on the north bank of the Lek river at Arnhem.

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Forces, Sept. 25.—Fierce fighting raged today in the Arnhem area of Holland where British Second Army troops have thrust some reinforcements across the River Lek to relieve airborne units holding a vital bridgehead on the invasion road to northern Germany.

An official announcement from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters said that some reinforcements had crossed to the north bank of the Lek under cover of darkness. Airborne units have battled furiously against heavy German resistance, and held positions across the river for a week.

Nazis Seeking To Stalemate War To Winter

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE AMERICAN THIRD ARMY, Sept. 25.—Bad weather continued to hang like old man winter on the Third Army front today slowing activity, but with the French scoring a five-mile advance in the sector five miles north of Baccarat.

Heavy American artillery still is bombarding shells off the Metz forts and elsewhere the Germans are licking wounds from a series of futile counter-attacks, repulsed in each case with the heaviest losses which particularly were costly in damage to German armor.

Seek Stalemate Into Winter
The great daily advance strides through France have ended momentarily and now it is a tug-of-war to decide whether the war can be stalemated into winter.

Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, however, is compelling the Wehrmacht to pay dearly for its standstill fight. Previously we took thousands of prisoners daily. Now it has become a matter of killing as many Germans as possible daily and (Continued on Page Two)

The imps of frost with their needle beaks have visited here and there, and the plants that stood in their leafy gowns are blackened and drooping and bare. The peppermint plants took a healthy shock and the gourds are flat as your hand, and tomatoes will like a desert plant. And it won't be long till the gardener will have little out there to pack for the frost imps ruined his garden patch and the vegetables got nipped. But we can't complain for the weather has held and kept the gardens alive, so let it frost when it jolly well will, the weather is sixty-five.

Senior class activities are getting under way also, with the election of the officers for the year. Robert Cooper has been chosen president, and has already appointed his committees. Vice president is Bernard Korab, secretary is Donna Park, and treasurer is Patricia Whelan.

Indian Leader Changes Tune

Renegade Indian Leader And Japanese Collaborationist Admits Failure Of Plans

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(INS)—Subhas Chandra Bose, renegade Indian leader collaborating with the Japanese, was quoted by the Dome agency today as admitting that his "war of liberation" of India had been a failure.

"Because of certain difficulties," he said, "our war of liberation has had to undergo changes in strategy, reorganizing it into a new structure. We now are waiting for completion of preparations for a new offensive."

Until recently, Subhas Chandra Bose sang a different tune. He claimed almost daily that the "liberation" of India was at hand.

The FCC heard the Dome broadcast.

FIGHTING SPEECH CAMPAIGN IS NOW NATION'S PROSPECT

priority target of the Republicans. The president spoke sarcastically of candidates who "hate to see any working man or woman contribute a dollar bill to any wicked political party."

Governor Dewey himself removed any doubt which may have existed over the effect of the president's speech on the remaining six weeks of the campaign.

After scanning the Roosevelt text on his eastbound campaign train, Dewey announced he would now feel free to examine the president's record with "unvarnished candor."

Specific Attacks Seen

The Republican nominee was expected to begin attacking specific phases of the Roosevelt administration with fresh ammunition.

Democrats, jubilant over Mr. Roosevelt's form in his appearance before Daniel J. Tobin's teamsters Saturday night, began pointing out his next foe, another radio broadcast to nation-wide meetings of party workers on Oct. 5.

Throughout his half hour "labored" speech, Mr. Roosevelt avoided mentioning Gov. Dewey by name. But in strong language he hit directly at the general charges leveled at him in recent speeches by his opponent.

He called Dewey's charge that the administration planned to keep men in the army to meet possible post-war unemployment a "callous and brazen falsehood" designed to "stimulate fear among American mothers, wives and sweethearts."

He emphasized that the army itself announced its demobilization plans, based upon the wishes of the soldiers, the "very day" Dewey's charge was first made.

"Malicious Falsehood"

He identified another Republican charge—"That I have represented myself as indispensable as a 'malicious falsehood'."

He declared that "perhaps the most ridiculous of these campaign falsifications is that this administration failed to prepare for war."

And on the issue of preserving the peace, the president asserted that the Republicans must not be permitted to "boycott" the peace as he charged they did 25 years ago.

Mr. Roosevelt answered GOP campaign criticism of his age by saying he was too old for one thing—"I cannot talk out of both sides of my mouth at the same time."

The Republicans, said the president, are trying to imitate the New Deal and in endeavoring to persuade the people that the Democrats are responsible for the depression had been guilty of "the most obvious common or garden variety of fraud."

He accused them generally of using the Hitler propaganda technique which he said was "never used in small falsehood, always a big one."

smashing the first class equipment they are compelled to commit in every counter-attack.

This "bleeding" process is bound to undermine the defensive strength of the Wehrmacht, the same as its offensive power was smashed in France. It has been significant that no major counter-attack as yet has succeeded in upsetting our lines.

Every one, as in the Dieuze and Chateau Salins sectors, has cost Hitler additional tanks and men.

Demobilizing Personnel

It was an obvious political move for the President to direct Budget Director Harold D. Smith to start planning now for the demobilization of government civilian personnel. Some steps in this direction can be taken when the war in Europe ends, said the President, but the desired shrinkage of government workers cannot be completed until after the defeat of Japan.

The Byrd Committee on Reduction of Non-essential Federal Expenditures takes sharp issue, in its most recent report, with the Civil Service Commission's statement that the payroll has been cut. The committee reports that the total number of paid employees in July, 1944, was 3,112,965, or 17,502 in excess of the employment peak reached in June, 1943. In short, according to the Byrd figures, the number of federal civilian employees is still on the increase.

Senator Byrd calls for immediate reduction of federal personnel by 300,000 as a starter. He believes that this could be done without harm to the war effort. Few would question that government agencies in Washington, at least, are overstaffed. The great rise in federal civilian workers occurred, of course, from 1940 on. In September, 1939, when the war in Europe began, the total number of employees stood at 940,133. That, of itself, is a figure worth examining. In 1933, when Roosevelt took office, the total was 568,161. Thus, up to the start of war, 371,972 persons had been added to the civilian payroll.

This was due, in large part, to the expansion of federal functions, establishment of scores of new agencies, etc. It is doubtless too much to hope that the number of civilian employees can ever be cut back to 600,000. But there can and must be a curtailment of the situation where 5 per cent of the working population of the United States works for the executive branch of the federal government.

Demobilization In Britain

England awaits an important announcement about demobilization plans to be made by Labor Minister Ernest Bevin in Parliament several days hence.

Popular expectation is that a cut in each of the three services will be proposed, with removal of men from each based on the "first-in, first-out" basis, with reservations. Overseas duty will count in the case of two men with equal service. A list of priority occupations is expected to cut a figure.

Because of the country's housing need, aggravated by bombings, building labor will get an early release.

'Polls' Face A Test

Dropping of a popular "poll" of public opinion by the New York Times and editorial fun-poking at these enterprises by many newspapers emphasizes that "straw vote taking," as it was formerly called, faces a test this year, perhaps similar to that of 1936 when the Literary Digest's elaborate undertaking took the count and dragged the magazine down with it.

One popular poll didn't do at all well in 1942, but seems to have explained what happened to the satisfaction of its customers. The poll predicted something resembling a draw, when the result was a Republican landslide.

Size of the total vote will enter into accuracy or lack of it of the opinion polls this year. In 1936, the Literary Digest's system of polling automobile owners went awry when, or so it appeared, all those not owning automobiles voted for Roosevelt.

In Italy

If dispatches from Italy are to be relied upon, those active in politics there are waiting for the occupation of Milan by the Allies before launching their campaigns to gain complete control of the country. Milan is the political center of that land and until it is included in the set-up all plans must be tentative.

It seems to be agreed among the newspaper correspondents that regardless of what happens, the House of Savoy is doomed and the government of Bonomi will not be noted for its longevity. The struggle of power in the event of Bonomi's downfall promises to be between communists and the socialists, with the socialists drawing heavily on communist strength.

The socialists are led by a fiery individual, Signor Nenni; the communists by a cautious individual named Palmiro Togliatti. Many of the communists like Nenni's style and are getting in behind him.

There are approximately 20 political parties at present in Italy, but seemingly none of them is willing to make a major move until Milan is heard from. And that must await the driving of the Nazis out of Milan by Allied troops, with no aid from the Italians.

Desperate China

The situation in China, precarious for months, has reached a most critical stage. Allied fortunes there are at a low ebb. For almost two years the United States 14th Air Force has been the one real hope for success against the enemy. The courage and ingenuity these airmen have displayed against the greatest odds has been one of the most glorious stories of American arms. Now they have been forced to destroy and evacuate their base at Kweilin, from which they operated so successfully.

General Stilwell has a considerable force in Burma, while the English under Lord Mountbatten are in India. But neither of these units has been able to prevent the serious reverses which have continued in China, particularly in the Hunan-Kwangsi area. The Japs had centered their strength against Kweilin and at one point were within 53 miles of the base when it was evacuated.

The entire campaign in China must be reorganized. Undoubtedly such plans have been discussed and are in the making. Chinese troops have been poorly led. There has been a lack of unified command. Weapons have been inadequate, both in number and efficiency. That the Chinese have fought well and bravely is admitted.

But bravery alone can not win in the face of such overwhelming odds. China is in a desperate situation.

Very often when a man gets in the public eye he feels just like a cinder.

If you want to have something to look forward to buy some more war bonds.

One of our friends says that a radio announcer called him up the other day and told him he had missed a $50 award by not having his radio turned on. But our friend opined that keeping the home silent was worth it.

Some Optimism At Dumbarton Oaks

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—With the first phase of the Dumbarton Oaks conference drawing to a close, the conferees are showing real signs of optimism. The extent of the agreement they have reached apparently goes beyond what they had hoped for when they first sat down around the conference table.

It hasn't been easy, by any means. In fact, it has gone more slowly than had been expected. There were long discussions over the degree of representation to be accorded the small nations, and also over what should be done if one of the Big Four should turn aggressor.

Nor will the final results show a perfect accord on every score. That could only happen in an ideal world and these men were trying always to keep an eye on reality.

Chinese Will Move In
Shortly, the three-way discussion with the Russians will be over, and then the Chinese will move in. With a framework already laid down, the hope is that this second meeting can be concluded in a week or ten days.

Then under secretary of state Edward A. Stettinius, Jr., will report to the president. His report will, it is hoped, be made public almost at once. Protocol calls for holding it up until all the governments are ready to release the reports of their respective chiefs of delegation.

The men laboring over this agreement know best of all that it's only a beginning. Having taken this first step, they realize that what patience, what painstaking effort must go into building up from this point on.

A lot of questions are unanswered. What about the place of France? What about the status of colonies in the new organization? The knots that must be untied before anything like peace can prevail in Europe are soaked in blood. The question mark of Poland casts a dark shadow over the peace table. It stands as a kind of symbol of the tortured world that has seen so much of sanity and decency—yes, Christianity—lost in the swamp of despair.

Agony In Warsaw
While the peace planners were sitting around the table at Dumbarton Oaks, there was agony in Warsaw. It was the agony of men dying in the conviction of betrayal.

Whatever the truth about who said what and who said it first, the fact remains that the Soviets did not come to the aid of General Bor's underground army, and indeed put obstacles in the way of the British and Americans getting help in. Putting emotion to one side, Russia lost an opportunity to show the world that aid for Poland could come only from Moscow; that the Poles are forever linked to their great neighbor on the east.

The tragic misunderstanding is ended now. Help is coming from all sides. It was ended, I believe, because the government here in Washington stood firm.

There is a difference, although some people won't see it, between standing firm for what we believe to be right and muddying the issues with the kind of sly intrigue that William Bullitt sought to revive. We know World War III—a war of annihilation—lies down that road. There's a chance to avoid it on the other road.

In 1916, the victorious nations drew up a pretty blueprint for a league of perfect nations. The peace planners preferred to close their eyes to the faults and failings of human beings, once they'd tailored their plan to an ideal pattern. This time we're going about it the other way, setting up a framework in which the tangles of the war can be unraveled.

Now and then the old voices still echo the past. "Senator Wheeler, who never learns and never forgets, apparently wants to repeat 1916. He predicts a fight on anything that Dumbarton Oaks may offer."

Fortunately, most Americans know now that this is merely the croak of a past which preferred self-destruction to anything less than impossible perfection. They know that Dumbarton Oaks is merely a station on a difficult journey.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

Power's a very fierce goddess, as they find who worship might. She counts only swords and cannon and ability to fight. To the side which is the stronger all her smiles and favors go. Who would back in her affections has to conquer every foe.

It was told you in the Scriptures every boastful battle lord. Who takes up the sword for conquest will go down before the sword.

Since the goddess Power seeks nothing either merciful or wise, Force can only hold her favors until greater force can rise.

Oh, you lords of warlike nations, you are doomed and know it well!

Truth and freedom have you mastered. They're outmatched you sword and shell.

Now the might of right is mounting, land and sky and open sea. And the day is not far distant when with swords you'll be beaten.

Probable Consequences Of Fourth Term Victory

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—WHENEVER the probable and logical consequences of the re-election of Mr. Roosevelt for a fourth term are pointed out, cries of rage and pain emanate from his journalistic propagandists, who, notwithstanding their insistence that the press is all against him, are more numerous, more vociferous and extreme than those who oppose.

THE CRY is raised that those who try to be realistic about these consequences are raising nightmares with which to frighten little children. And, anyway, there are nothing but a lot of reactionary old "Roosevelt haters" who want to grind down the poor and would stop at nothing to get "That Man" out of the White House. For more than ten years the New Dealers have maintained themselves against attack by this kind of balderdash. It seems incredible that such stuff could be accepted as argument and used to conceal the facts. But their success with it in the past is bold dispute, and they are still using it.

IN THEIR campaign this time, there are elements and prospects which few unfeverish persons, it would seem, could consider without some degree of apprehension. Yet mention of these is met in the same way Administration criticism always has been met—to wit, by a complete ignoring of the facts, by cheap ridicule, demagogic appeal to the unthinking masses and personal abuse. Nevertheless, it is the purpose again to draw attention to one of the surest and most-to-be-dreaded consequences of a Roosevelt re-election. This is the almost certain existence for the next four years of a Congress hostile to and distrustful of the Executive, one which he could neither coerce, control or persuade to follow him.

IT IS unreasonable to contend that if Mr. Roosevelt wins he is bound to carry in with him a majority of the House, because that has been what has happened in nearly every election in the past. Those who thus argue do so because they do not want to face the facts. The fact is that, despite precedents, there is hardly a practical politician or an informed observer on either side who believes that in the event of Mr. Roosevelt's re-election the House would have even a nominal Democratic majority, much less an actual Administration one. There is almost complete unanimity of opinion among them that the Republicans will be in entire control of that body. For this conviction, there are sound grounds.

The numerous Congressional by-elections of the past two years have increased the Republican House membership to the point where they almost have a majority in the present Congress. These have shown a Republican trend in the districts which are generally conceded Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy, clearly, is a personal one, depending upon the war for success, and there is not the slightest reason for thinking that so far as candidates for House and Senate are concerned, this trend will be reversed in November.

On the contrary, the political belief is that it will be accentuated, it being plain that in nearly every State there are many voters who, voting for Mr. Roosevelt for reasons connected with the war, will stop there.

IT OF course, is true that the Senate, because of its present make-up and the fact that only one-third of its membership is to be elected, will remain nominally Democratic, though the Republicans are sure to gain some seats. As the Senate is already an Administration through its majority of Republicans and anti-New Deal Democrats, this means that it would be more so after a fourth term election. In brief, the odds are overwhelming that as a fourth-term President Mr. Roosevelt, who has been unable to control this Congress in which the Democrats have nominal majorities in both branches, would find himself confronted with a Congress over which he would have even a semblance of control. This would be created the worst possible situation for dealing with the vast and vital post-war problems, all of which are being pushed over until after the election.

IN THE White House, there would be a tired, aging President, unable to lead or direct the legislative branch, secure acceptance of his views or adoption of his recommendations. And at the Capitol, there would be a Congress without leadership. As has frequently been pointed out, this is the worst situation that can arise under our form of government. It means both executive and legislative futility. It means a practical paralysis of government and a dangerous chaos. The probabilities that a Roosevelt re-election would create a condition such as this are so strong that it is difficult to see how any informed and candid man can refuse to admit them. There are other unpleasant and highly probable consequences of a Roosevelt re-election but from the standpoint of the general welfare, none seems more menacing than this prospect of complete executive and legislative deadlock, a small sample of which we have had in the past year.

Question: I have received an invitation to a home wedding. On it, there is no mention of a reception. I am not going and would like to know if I must send my "regrets" and a gift.

Answer: You must send your "regrets" as well as a gift. Ordinarily, neither is necessary when the ceremony takes place in church; but those invited to the ceremony at home are also invited to remain for the reception.

Admiral Nimitz Has Fondness For Onions
Warrior Of Pacific Requires Them Often
Fashion Writers Drown Us In Adjectives

(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—No piece of news in months has delighted me as much as this bit written in by a bosom friend in the South Pacific.

"Admiral Nimitz gets definitely upset if he can't have onions. The admiral just dotes on onions. He eats more of them than you would ever dream anybody would eat—of onions."

So Admiral Nimitz dotes on onions! The admiral is as fine a fighting sailor as ever put a polished toe on quarter deck. He is a star among fleet commanders. Indeed he may be chosen as head of the coming big offensive against Japan.

It would be interesting and very instructive to find out do other successful fighting men dote on onions? What kind of food do they dote on? What is the special delicacy or the roughage of other combat leaders? Does MacArthur crave chocolate ice cream? Does General Eisenhower thrive on fried chicken and mashed potatoes?

General Patton, so we used to be told, ate fire and brimstone. General Grant knew good whisky when he tasted it. Just what is the favorite dish of various heroes? In other words—what are heroes made of? Speak up, you dietitians!

The Office of War Information has been sending out post-card questionnaires—"Do you—or do you not—wish to receive releases from this office?" Obviously the war news or the information which the OWI thinks it can give to the public is diminishing.

Meanwhile what are the Bright Miners of this sprawling organization doing with their red pencils? I may be wrong, but as I read the fashion copy in the magazines and newspapers I begin to think that in this blossoming prose are naughty inspirations from the trains with nothing in particular to do.

Certainly there's a military hangover in such an order as "Attack autumnal gloom with this sword." (Continued On Next Page)

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PRIME DUTY OF A TEACHER

While shopping, you may have been amazed at hearing the clerk, a stranger to you, addressing you by name. If he saw or heard your name once he surely said it a number of times, and you really liked to hear it. His skill at learning and using your name was a big time in making the sale. And if, when you return to shop with the same clerk, he immediately greets you by name, you are well prepared to buy from him again.

You attend a reception and are introduced to an important person. If, later, at this reception, this person addresses you by name, you are pleased to be so well remembered. Perhaps you meet other new persons whom you later can address by name. This makes each the other person and yourself feel comfortable. But if you can't remember the name of a person you have just met, you don't feel at ease. You may avoid that person or, having occasion to speak to him, you will be hampered in your speech and feeling. You won't be at your best. That person will respond so freely to you nor feel so much attracted to you as if you had remembered his name.

Importance of Knowing Name
Though there really are many reasons for forgetting a person's name, when someone forgets your name or mine, we interpret it in terms of just one reason—that we were not worth remembering. Our sense of self-importance has been wounded. Correspondingly, we feel complimented when our name is remembered, and we warm up to the one who remembers it.

I wish teachers would keep the foregoing psychological principle in mind. Then they would make it their first aim to learn the name of each pupil as early as possible. Nothing else should be nearly so important. A few teachers actually can call by name every child in the classroom by the end of the first day. Some others can at the end of the first week. An occasional teacher, alas, can do it at the end of two months. It's very disconcerting to a parent when enquiring of a teacher about her child to discover the teacher does not know the child's name. If I were an elementary school principal I should announce to my teachers that at the end of the first two weeks I would appear in each classroom and have them introduce each child to me as an incentive to the teacher to know their names.

Pronounce Name Correctly
It's much harder, of course, at the junior and senior high school level, where a teacher may have to meet one or several hundred children in a week. Nevertheless, and perhaps smart enough to teach should be smart enough to address all these pupils by name at the end of a month or so.

You and I are annoyed when our name is wrongly pronounced. How does a child feel when this happens? And when the incorrect pronunciation causes a laughter from his classmates? I know some teachers who have the child tell them how to pronounce his name correctly, sometimes practicing with the child in private. I wish all teachers felt and exercised such consideration.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

In an address before the American Chemical Society, Dr. Thomas Midgely, Jr., its president, complained that there are "too many old men at the helm."

Denying advancement to younger men at the very age when these younger men may be expected to be entering those years when their maximum efficiency will be attained.

"Every executive who has lived beyond the age of 40 is guilty, to some slight extent, of not getting out of the way of the younger men so that their normal advancement could take place."

Then he went on to prove his case by telling his hearers that William Perkin gave us the first aniline dye at 18. That Marconi patented his first wireless invention at 24. That Huxley invented the sewing machine at 26. Watson the cotton gin at 29 and he himself was 33 when he attained fame by discovering tetraethyl lead.

There is something to Dr. Midgely's theory, of course. But there are two sides to every story. Dr. Midgely simply repeats the late Sir William Osler's edict that "the effective, moving, vitalizing work of the world is done between the ages of 25 and 40."

Wonderful Achievements
And yet—look at the wonderful achievements of men and women in their fifties, sixties and seventies.

How about Gladstone and Palmerston who were brilliant Prime Ministers at 80? How about John Quincy Adams and Henry Clay? How about Thomas Edison and Henry Ford? How about Justices Holmes and Brandeis? How about Cordell Hull and Winston Churchill and General Eisenhower and Montgomery?

It is perfectly true that at a certain age—and I don't think Dr. Midgely or anyone else can set that age at a definite year of one's life—the body begins to deteriorate and as the blood gets more sluggish, the legs stiffen and the heart can't quite stand the strain. You have to slow down and begin to take it a bit more easy.

But the mind often becomes keener as physical activity decreases. The knowledge gained in earlier years can be applied for the benefit of humanity.

And that applies not only to leadership but to all walks of life. Three miles away from me a 76-year-old lady runs a little store where she sells newspapers and magazines and candy and cigarettes. Her son and daughter-in-law live with her. They have asked her several times to stop work and take it easy. "Ah no," says the 76-year-old lady. "If I stop work I'll get old. I want to die young, and I can do that only as long as I am independent and keep in touch with people."

I think Dr. Midgely, president of a great scientific society, can learn a great deal from Mrs. Koehler who runs that little country store.

The World and the Mud Puddles

MANY LAME DUCKS

One angle of the Federal payroll problem, which is taking more serious month by month, is noted by the head of an organization whose objective is the elimination of unnecessary public employees. He discloses that while the elimination by Congress of the WPA, the NMA, the RACC and the CCC should have resulted in dropping 33,961 jobs from the government rolls, only a little over half that number—17,340—actually were dismissed. The others simply were shifted to other jobs.

Uniform Federal Feed Subsidies For State Dairy Farmers

HARRISBURG, Sept. 25.—(INS)—All Pennsylvania dairy farmers will receive uniform federal feed subsidies of 80 cents for each hundred pounds of milk produced September through December, the state agricultural adjustment agency announced today.

The War Food Administration approved the increased payments because of the drought that blanketed the state during August. The AAA reported earlier payments as low as 45 cents a hundredweight were scheduled to be effective during the four months.

The AAA said the top subsidies were authorized as part of the "hold-the-line" policy of WFA so farmers could continue maximum milk production without boosting consumer prices.

Whiskey Rationing Will Be Continued

HARRISBURG, Sept. 25.—(INS)—Continued whiskey rationing in Pennsylvania was foreseen today by State Liquor Control Board Chairman Frederick T. Gelder despite reports the industry will be granted another manufacturing "holiday." The eighth whiskey rationing period for Pennsylvanians began today and will expire October 21. Customers may purchase one-fifth of a gallon by presenting war ration book number three. "Rationing will continue until it is clear there is an ample supply," Gelder declared. The industry's August manufacturing holiday boosted nationwide stocks an estimated 48,000,000 gallons.

Among the new faculty members are two Westminster graduates, Miss Martha Barnhill, Cleveland; and Miss Donna Mae Pound, Vienna, O. slim, flame-bright satin suit that owes much of its drama to its brazen outside seams! Or... "March boldly forth in gay, triumphant colors... Perch on your un-swept ciffure a black, black (double black) beret that rises and sweeps and plunges to dramatic proportions and sublimates your entire soul arresting costume with its "sandeur!"

Here's another—done likewise with exclamation points, a Rozet's Thesaurus and a Blue Back Speller book of Cliches—"The woman who flings this superlative fox stole over the slim shoulders of a simple jumper stands out alone in all her beauty like some new divine instrument so-long to the gods!... Humph! Some babe—in the language of the average male.

"The prophetic silhouette" is working the stylists. Probably part of the post-war planning. Has the prophetic wiggle into the Dumbarton Oaks conversations yet? I hope not, because in the fashion advice to the careworn you-s-and he-s, the truly prophetic silhouette has "the lure of a sophisticated mermaid transplanted from the sea to the sailor."

Such goings on! When all a woman wants is a dress that is reasonably becoming, will make other women reasonably envious and encourage some men to say: "You look swell today, honey."

For exciting as may be the thought of "the essence of blonde bewitching"—'twas said one drop would make a woman the most rav-

Until store deliveries improve I don't want to "go a-marketing in a gallop down life's highway, or to frisk through fall days with shoes frankly flirting at the toes."

I don't care for toes, frankly. I care for the most ravishing thing in life—always. I don't want to be bothered with "drawstring drama" when I'm coping with 10 pounds of unripe though divinely dyed oranges in an ecstatic bulging bus. Even if I have topped my sleek head with a "vixen's wheel hat, halo to a calot, and emphasizing its fragile beauty with my strict suit."

What's a "strict suit"? Maybe it is a military secret. The OWI probably is at the bottom of the hilarious, dramatic (never forget "dramatic") fashion outlook for the woman with a "sugared cheek book."

No Reports Yet On Saturday's Paper Collection

No weights were available today but the indications in the waste paper collection held Saturday, September 25, in New Castle and surrounding townships amount to between 60 and 70 tons. The collection was one of the best arranged ones held thus far, the trucks getting over the city in good time and getting their loads to the box cars on the Baltimore and Ohio sidings on South Mill street.

Numa F. Vidal and John P. Boyle handled the collection assisted by men from various labor unions, Boy Scouts, and volunteers from various business houses. The trucks were donated by trucking firms and business establishments.

Expenses for the collection will be comparatively light and the net proceeds will go to the Mayor's Recreation fund. During the loading operations at the B&O the Lawrence County Red Cross Canteen Service fed the workers sandwiches and milk.

NEW PENETRATION OF GERMAN SOIL BY ALLIED FORCES

Allied forces across the Reich frontier in a new penetration of Hitler's "holy soil."

Attacking in the neighborhood of the Reichswald forest, Allied forces smashed through German defenses to make still another entrance into the Reich.

Frontline dispatches said that British Second Army units with the aid of American paratroopers previously dropped in the area had taken the town of Beek and driven two miles beyond the town into German soil.

3 Miles From Essen

(The British radio reported in a London broadcast that British armored units taking part in the new drive into Germany were less than 37 and a half miles from Essen CBS heard the broadcast.)

An Allied headquarters spokesman said that the invading column had seized the town of Moerk in the drive as well as capturing Beek.

At the base of the British corridor running north through Holland, Allied troops pushed across the Boile Duc canal in a drive to widen the bridgehead across the Waal at Endhoven. The Allied thrust carried to the north toward Veghel where British combat teams, butting strong German opposition aside after hurling back a determined Nazi counter attack launched from the village of Erp.

Retreating Nazi forces were pushed back from the Escout canal to the general line of the Antwerp-Turnhout canal.

South of Aachen, in the area about Rotgen, Allied units scored slight gains against heavy German resistance, advancing after reducing German strongpoints.

Artillery Responds

Some 16 miles north of Aachen, near Gelebskirchen, concentrated fire from medium German artillery hit Allied troops. Allied artillery answered the fire.

South toward Metz, Nazi forces remained strongly entrenched on the west side of the Moselle river, and south of Metz Allied troops continued to encounter fanatical resistance.

Still farther south along the western front Allied units entered Leyr, eight miles northwest of Nancy, and swept all Germans from the town.

The same troops continued to advance and are engaged in clearing the Bois de Paule and the Forêt de Champenoux to the east of Nancy.

Fighting continued in the Meuse valley where Allied forces drove still deeper into Nazi defenses in the Forêt de Mondon, northwest of Baccarat.

Although headquarters spokesmen declared with the situation of beleaguered airborne units on the north bank of the Lek, in the Arnhem area, was brighter, no strong relieving force has come to the aid of the hard-pressed bridgehead force.

In Precarious Condition

Allied gains along the supply corridor from Eindhoven to Nijmegen, and from Nijmegen north toward Arnhem, have strengthened the overall position, but bridgehead troops north of the Lek, where concentrated German fire has battered the airborne positions for a week, remain in a precarious position with German mortar and artillery fire hammering constantly at the 1,000-yard sector still held by the Allies.

Nazi troops were reported digging last-ditch defenses behind the Siegfried line and along the Rhine, and headquarters announced that German civilians were digging defenses north and east of Aachen.

The Arnhem area, where British paratroopers linked up with trapped airborne units, operations continued under a veritable hail of enemy fire. The airborne troops, clinging to a bridgehead across the Lek, had been forced into a position embracing only 1,000 yards of ground.

Seek To Wipe Out Bridgehead

German troops, battling desperately to wipe out the bridgehead before relief could be smashed through from the Nijmegen area, subjected the bridgehead forces to a withering barrage of cannon and mortar fire.

Under ceaseless bombardment, the airborne units fought savagely back at the Nazis, battling to maintain their vital footing on the route through which the Allies hope to smash into Germany in a drive to flank both the west wall and the Rhine.

When the airborne unit's bridgehead had been reduced to 1,000 yards, during British patrols reached the south bank of the Lek and crossed the stream under Nazi fire to establish liaison with the bridgehead forces after seven days of isolated fighting.

After the Second Army patrols made contact, a small number of shock troops were dispatched across the Lek, arriving on the bridgehead at the height of another German effort to overrun the Allied positions.

(The Stockholm newspaper "Svenska Dagbladet" reported in a dispatch from Berlin that British airborne troops, despite their perilous situation had managed to capture the Arnhem airport. Other reports said that Nazi forces were evacuating Arnhem.)

Russian scientists have developed a new type of apricot which is said to contain 30 per cent sugar when ripe.

Pvt. M. Bluedorn Killed In Action

Wife Receives Word Local Soldier Killed In France On September 4

Pvt. Merrill Bluedorn, 32, of 1921 Pennsylvania avenue, was killed in action in France on September 4th, according to a telegram from the war department received today by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Bluedorn. Mr. Bluedorn had been in service about one year and had been engaged in the fighting in France.

For many years Mr. Bluedorn was an employee of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company and was well known in New Castle. He is survived by his widow, his father, Samuel F. Bluedorn, of Warren, O., and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bluedorn, of 1921 Pennsylvania avenue.

DEWEY AROUSED BY ASSERTIONS OF PRESIDENT

The critical years ahead of us, Mr. opponent, in his speech last night, indicated that he has no program, and has sunk to mere quoting from 'Mein Kampf' and to charges of 'fraud' and 'falsehood.'

"It is now more clear than ever that four terms as President is too many for any man and that 16 years would be far too long."

"Non-Political" Mask Dropped

"Since the man who wants to be president for 16 years has now dropped the mask of a 'non-political' campaigner and is campaigning on the remote past, I shall feel free to examine his record with unvarnished candor in the future, beginning with a national broadcast from Oklahoma City Monday night at 9 o'clock (central war time)."

"Nothing will deter me, however, from continuing to preserve our national unity for war and for the building of the peace or from presenting the forward-looking program necessary if we are to have a successful America here at home."

Despite the obvious anger over the Roosevelt speech among Governor Dewey's advisors there was a feeling that the President had made a strategic error by stepping out of the "commander-in-chief" role to trade punches in the political arena.

They pointed out that Governor Dewey now is free to toss return punches without leaving himself open to possible criticism for assailing the "commander-in-chief."

"Throws First Stone"

"People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw the first stone," said one member of the Dewey staff.

"President Roosevelt has thrown it. Now look out for flying glass."

Through no fault of his own, Governor Dewey did not hear President Roosevelt's radio speech. The reception in his car failed and until he received a copy of the speech at a New Mexico stop yesterday, the GOP nominee knew what it contained only through oral reports from newsmen.

After reading the text, Governor Dewey quickly announced in a hurriedly-written statement a switch in campaign tactics which promises to develop during the next few weeks the hottest presidential cross-fire in years.

Ire Is Aroused

Friends of Governor Dewey said his ire was particularly aroused by Roosevelt intimations that his campaign methods were copied from those employed by the enemies of the United States.

He is expected to charge in his Oklahoma City speech that it has been the strategy of the present administration, since the war began, to toss off all criticism of its methods by linking the critics with fascism.

The importance attached to his changed Oklahoma City speech by Governor Dewey was indicated when he spent many minutes at Belen, N. M., talking by long distance telephone with National Chairman Herbert Brownell in New York City, seeking wider radio coverage.

In the middle ages, brides carried or wore wheat ears and the guests, hoping for prosperity, threw grains of wheat over the bride.

GI SOAP OPERA

presented by Atlantic

It's Ultrawet—exclusive development of Atlantic's research division—that puts our fighting forces in a lather.

When America went to war around the world, GI's yelled for a soap that could be used in any water... rain-water, hard water, salt water... Arctic to Equator.

The dream product demanded had to be good for washing clothes, bathing, shaving... anywhere, any time.

The Army Quartermaster Corps produced this all-purpose super-soap... using Ultra-wet as an ingredient. Ultrawet is included in official specifications for the soap.

Serving at every front (it's also used on battleships for fire-fighting foam), Ultrawet really is a peacetime development.

Atlantic scientists evolved it for industrial use in water containing chlorides, magnesium, iron... wherever ordinary soap doesn't lather well.

Today's Atlantic research is all for war—but out of it will come finer petroleum products for use in peace.

Furniture Given To Deshon Annex

Colorful Bentwood furniture, the gift of the Lawrence County chapter, American Red Cross, has been placed in the lounge room of the Deshon annex recreation building, in Cunningham Park. The furniture was placed on Saturday and adds life to the room.

When the annex first opened Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson and the Bundles from New Castle group furnished the recreation hall and lounge room. With a constantly shifting group of men, the furniture gets one hard wear and some of the pieces have given way under the strain. These are the ones replaced and some additional pieces added.

Plans are under way to cover the floor of the lounge room with linoleum. With the cold weather just about the recreation hall and lounge room will be used more than they have in the past three months.

Family Night Party By Consistory Draws Big Crowd Saturday

Fourteen Hundred Present For Dinner, With More Attending Entertainment Following

It looked like old times again at the cathedral, Saturday evening when the first Family Night Dinner party of the year was held by the Valley of New Castle Consistory with 1,400 persons sitting down to dinner. The huge crowd taxed the capacity of the dining room, but was served in good time.

During the dinner program, pep singing was led by Dave Rees, director of the Consistory Choir, with Etnal Branstetter at the piano.

A fine program of vaudeville was presented in the auditorium after the dinner, with many more who were unable to secure reservations for the dinner, attending. This was followed by motion pictures and dancing in the ball room.

The next dinner party will take place in November, chairman Fred M. Alexander of the entertainment committee announced.

Butter Shortage In Nation Acute

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—(INS)—Civilians will be virtually dependent upon day-to-day production for their butter during the next few months because the butter in storage has shrunk to the lowest level in 29 years or more, Owen M. Richards, manager of the American Dairy association, declared today.

Richards illustrated the situation by saying that on Sept. 1 only one pound was in stockpile for civilians for every 15 pounds that would have been available at a comparable date in peace-time years.

Perhaps the buckeye tree in the sheriff's front yard hasn't been trying this year, what with Sheriff Badger in the Navy. But it is a fact that the tree has few of the horse chestnuts on. Last year it was full, and after the first frost the ground was covered with them. This year there's hardly enough to make a necklace.

Merchant Vessel Makes Port After Torpedoing By Sub

First American Ship In Several Months Attacked By Enemy
Sub In Atlantic

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(INS)—
The Navy announced today that a medium sized American merchant vessel has reached Norfolk, Va., safety after being torpedoed off the North Carolina coast by an enemy submarine.

It was the first torpedoing in American coastal waters announced by the Navy in several months and indicated that the German U-boats may be making a last desperate attempt to harass American war shipments destined for the European theater.

The vessel was being towed by a tug after being attacked off the coast and was under escort by two coast guard cutters Jackson and Bedloe when the recent hurricane struck.

During the hurricane the towline parted and the tug could not stand by in the storm. The two coast guard cutters were lost. Navy tugs later took the damaged vessel under tow and completed the trip to Norfolk.

The Navy said there were no casualties aboard the merchant vessel.

Severe Fighting In Kwangtung Province

CHUNGKING, Sept. 25.—(INS)—

Severe fighting continued today in Kwangtung province, where Chinese forces yesterday recaptured Heping and Sunhsing, some 50 miles from Wuchow, river treaty port now in the hands of the Japanese, according to a Chinese communiqué. Other Chinese troops forced their way into the town of Lungling, with the Japs retreating to the north.

The Tokyo radio complained about the scorched earth policy of the Chinese, admitting that Wuchow was in ruins. An "extensive fire" started by American bombs last Thursday, Tokyo said, is still raging.
The burning property formerly belonged to the Texas Oil Co.

Tokyo also declared that the American air force in China "has begun retreating" to what it called a "third air defense line" under construction in Kweichow province, and said the Americans have "started repair of the former Burma road." CBS heard the broadcasts.

Governor Bricker Shows Confidence

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 25.—(INS)—

Back from a 3210-mile trip in which he carried his bid for the vice presidency into New England,
Gov. John W. Bricker expressed confidence today that New England will be in the Republican column in November and added that he is
"sure of Pennsylvania."

"I have just concluded a most interesting trip," Governor Bricker told newsmen. "The response and enthusiasm were far better than I had ever anticipated. The crowds were larger than I expected. I was especially amazed by the size and enthusiasm of the crowd at Wilkes-Barre, Pa."

He is expected to arrive in Columbus Wednesday and will plunge at once into preparations for his 9-250-mile trip to the west coast. The western tour will begin next Monday with an appearance in Bowling
Green, Ky., and will last four weeks.

Testimonial Held For Lt. N. Calvanese

High Honors Paid To Seventh Ward
Young Man On Entering
Medical Profession

First Lieut. Nicholas Calvanese of 109 South Lafayette street, a local young physician who recently received his medical degree and commission in the U. S. army, was honored in a most fitting manner Sunday evening when a group of his close friends rendered him a testimonial dinner—one of the most successful ever held in the community.

Activities for this great occasion started at 6:30 o'clock in the gayly decorated St. Margaret's hall, North Liberty street, with one of the largest crowds being present to extend their congratulations to the new medic.

Early in the evening a full course spaghetti and chicken dinner was served by an efficient committee. Places were marked with clever favors, bearing the insignia of the caduceus, the physician's symbol, tied with a bow of patriotic colors. Rev. Fr. Sebastian Ippolito, pastor of St. Lucy's church, gave the blessing.

Nick Caney, a close friend of the honored guest, ably took charge of the toastmaster's role and offered his congratulations to the guest.

Dr. John P. Piroletti, the first speaker of the evening, outlined briefly the years of study necessary for those who enter the medical profession, emphasizing the hard years of work and those to come in the future. The hope for an early peace and end of war was voiced by Dr. Piroletti, and this will bring our boys home soon and also the doctors, who can render the much needed medical service at home. He also offered his congratulations and Mrs. Piroletti.

Father Ippolito extended his best wishes and at this time paid special honor to the parents of the young man, Mr. and Mrs. Alphonso Calvanese, who have made possible the young man's profession.

Other speakers who offered their congratulations and best success in future years were Dr. A. Acquaviva, Dr. Stanley Zarembo, William DeCarbo, T. C. Rainey and Bart Lombardo, president of the St. Margaret's society.

Lieut. Calvanese responded graciously to the remarks of the speakers. He emphasized the fact that all he is today and in the future can only be attributed to his parents, to whom he dedicated the testimonial tendered him. He expressed his thanks to the committee and for their gift, and all who made the event possible, and St. Margaret's society for the gift presented to him.

A bouquet of lovely flowers was received from Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Rainey.

Special guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Alphonso Calvanese, Inez and Mary Calvanese, Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Picarro, Sam Vericella, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Piroletti, Mr. and Mrs. William DeCarbo, Dr. A. Acquaviva, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Rainey, Rev. Fr. Sebastian Ippolito, Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Zarembo, Bart Lombardo, Nick Caney, Mr. and Mrs. Don Mooney and Palma Julian.

Dancing was enjoyed to the pleasing musical selections of a local orchestra, and during the evening excellent vocal selections were offered by Mrs. Victoria Exposito. The committee for the dinner is due much credit for the grand success.

Dr. Calvanese received his medical degree from Hahnemann Medical college on September 14 at graduation exercises held in the Academy of Music, Philadelphia, Pa., and was commissioned in the U. S. army as first lieutenant in the army medical reserve. On October 1, Lieut. Calvanese will start his internship at Western Pennsylvania hospital, Pittsburgh, Pa. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonso Calvanese of 109 South Lafayette street.

Tigers-Browns Still Battling

Detroit Holds One-Game Lead In Exciting American League Pennant Fight

By JOHN CASHMAN
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(INS)—The never-say-die New York Yankees fans who have determinedly reserved seats at Yankee Stadium for the world series now may begin wailing in their cancellations. The Yankees now would have to win all their remaining games while the leading Detroit Tigers were losing five. And you know that's not going to happen.

The Cleveland Indians achieved the virtual elimination of the New York Yankees from the chaotic American League pennant race with a single win over the McCathymen yesterday, 4 to 1.

Tigers Top Sox
The Tigers, who win when the chips are down, rapped out another single-game triumph over the Boston Red Sox, 9 to 5, as brilliant Hal Newhouse turned in his 27th victory of the year.

The fighting St. Louis Browns kept to within one game of Detroit when they staged a wild and victorious rally in the ninth inning after two were out to beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 3 to 2.

In the only AL run ball of the day, the Chicago White Sox triumphed over the Washington Senators twice, 9 to 3 and 2 to 0.

A spark of interest flickered in the National League when the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Philadelphia Phillies twice. The first contest was a 16-inning marathon won on a 4 to 3 score by Whitey Kuroski's homer. Mort Cooper and Ken Raffensberger went the entire distance in a brilliant pitching duel. The Cards took the afterpiece, 1 to 0.

Reds Win Two
The Cincinnati Reds trounced the Boston Braves twice, 2 to 1 and 1 to 0. Harry Gumbert and Jim Tobin locked in a first-game hurling duel, each allowing only six hits.

The Brooklyn Dodgers and Chicago Cubs divided the first games, 10 to 3, and the Cubs the second, 4 to 3.

The New York Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates also split, the Giants winning the opener, 5 to 4, but dropping the afterpiece, 3 to 2, in ten innings.

Blacksnake Wins Over Rattlesnake
Five hundred persons who attended the outing Sunday of the Warren County and Stream club at Irvine, Pa., witnessed a unique battle. Blacksnake vs. rattlesnake. The blacksnake finished off the rattlesnake in quick time. Rattles also were "milked" by Al Allen who extracted the poison from a number of the big native snakes.

Panthers Defeat West Virginia

Mike Roussos, New Castle Boy, Starts At Right Tackle For Pitt Panthers

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 25.—(INS)—With a 26-13 triumph over West Virginia university behind them, Pitt's Panthers today began work on an aerial defense in preparation for their game against Notre Dame Saturday at Forbes field.

Captain Clark Shaughnessy, famed proponent of the T-formation, is hoping for an upset victory over the Irish, even though the visitors team will be packed with experienced men.

Mike Roussos, former New Castle High star lineman, began his college career Saturday by starting at right tackle for the Pitt Panthers.

Great Lakes Shows Class By Dumping Purdue, Southern Cal-UCLA Tie

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(INS)—The Great Lakes Naval Training football squad, which kicked over the apparently invincible Notre Dame outfit in the last few seconds of the South Bend 1943 schedule, looks like a good bet today to have another glittering season.

As part of the curtain-raising for the 1944 collegiate football parade Saturday the Bluejackets tripped Purdue, 27 to 18.

Another stirring last-period triumph was scored by the Iowa Sea-hawks over Minnesota, 19 to 13.

The granddaddy of Saturday's thrilling contests, however, was the U.C.L.A.-University of Southern California, 13-13 tie.

Cornell-Duke Win
A less thrilling but mighty significant victory was scored by Illinois over Indiana, 26 to 12.

In the East, with most of the leaders hanging back, a greatly superior Cornell club trounced Syracuse, 39 to 0.

And in the South, mighty Duke routed Richmond, 61 to 7. The Blue Devils had too much reserve power for Richmond, and scored almost at will.

Luigi Beccali, Winner Of 1500 Meter Crown In 1932, Now With Engineer Corps

GREENVILLE, Pa., Sept. 25.—Luigi Beccali, former 1500 meter Olympic champion, has joined the ranks of athletic titlists at Camp Reynolds.

Beccali, who as a member of the Italian team won the 1500 meter crown at the 1932 games at Los Angeles, has put away his running shoes and now is devoting his entire time to his Army job with the Engineer Corps.

Although no longer active on the track, Beccali maintains a lively interest in the sport and looks back with great pleasure on his sparkling duels with the great Glenn Cunningham, for many years the peer of United States distance men and Jack Lovelace, the Australian.

Beccali won the Olympic event in 3:51.2, then a record for the distance.

Beccali, a native of Milan, Italy, came to the United States in 1939 and established his residence in New York. He was inducted into the Army last April and was stationed at Fort Belvoir, Va., prior to coming to Camp Reynolds.

Chandler B. McMillan, Principal At Bessemer Inter-ested In Meeting Tonight

Possibility of the Class B high school football teams in Lawrence and Butler counties formulating a Class B grid conference will be discussed at a meeting to be held tonight at Butler High at 7:30 o'clock.

The meeting has been called by Chandler B. McMillan, principal of Bessemer High who suggested the conference.

The following schools from the two neighboring counties will send representatives to the meeting—Bessemer, Union, Shenango, New Wilmington, Parkers Landing, Mars, Zelienople and Evans City. Inasmuch as the majority of the teams play each other anyhow, a conference may be worked out.

New Wilmington is the only school invited to the meeting that does not have a football team, but it is understood that New Wilmington is seriously considering a return to football in 1945 after a lapse of quite a number of years. Principal Whitman will attend the Butler session, it was announced.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER

(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—On paper the St. Louis Cardinals should win the world series.

Their pitching staff, headed by a "big four" composed of Mort Cooper, Ted Wilks, Harry Brechen and Max Lanier, is comparable to anything that the eventual survivor in the American League race will be able to throw at the National League.

They have something else—three men among the Nationals' top hitters. No matter which team wins in the American it isn't likely to have a trio with averages as high as the ones compiled by Stan Musial, Johnny Hopp and Walker Cooper. The Cards also have a top-flight run producer in Ray Sanders.

Cards Can Rest
The Cards also will go into the series rested as a result of their early pennant triumph. The American Leaguers appear to be determined to fight it out right down to the wire.

In this connection it should be mentioned that most more or less astute onlookers insist that early pennant winners almost inevitably lead to world series triumphs. A few cling to the notion that a team is better for having raced all the way to the finish, thus remaining keyed up for the series. The latter are probably wrong.

It stands to reason that the Cards will have had time to rest their pitchers and coast along to the wire, playing hard enough every day, but without that terrible tension under which the Tigers and Browns and Yankees currently are laboring.

The Red Sox need not be mentioned. Counting them out now is a mere formality. It is a three-cornered battle by this time with the Tigers in the driver's seat.

Musial Great Hitter
Getting back to the Cardinal players, Musial is the second best hitter in baseball—second only to the redoubtable Mr. Dixie Walker of the Dodgers. The Card outfielder is a world series veteran of sorts.

Being last season's most valuable player in his circuit, according to the vote of the experts, he has had time to rest his legs.

Danny Litwiler, Debs Garmis, Johnny Hopp, of the outfield, and such inner defense men as Sanders, Slaters Marion and Whitey Kuroski have furnished notable headlines in the recent fall classics engaged in by the Cards, now about to play it for the third year in a row.

Walker Cooper is a capable and experienced backstop who heads the receiving end of the battery department, and there are dozens of other guys around, not overlooking George Fallon and a flock of pitchers, who will take keen delight in taking the American Leaguers apart. They will try, anyhow.

Cards Too Tough
These Cards know just about everything there is to know about the world series. They've enjoyed the thrill of beating the Yankees, as they did in 1942, and they have suffered the bitterness of defeat, which was handed to them by those same Yankees last year.

Some of them are youngish, but most of them are veterans in experience and their very manner of winning the National League pennant is indicative of the kind of ball they can play.

They are going to be tough to handle.

Softball Game Ends In Dispute

Bronze And I.A.M. Game At Marshall Field Ends 2 To 1 With Protest

The matter of an Industrial League softball champion in New Castle for 1944 will have to wait until after Tuesday night. The Bronze and I.A.M. game at Marshall Field yesterday ended in a dispute in the sixth inning. Rocco P. Viggiano, acting president of the league has called a special meeting for 8:30 Tuesday at the "Y".

At the meeting only Managers Kiss Marino, Tippy Richards, and umpire Ray Campoli and "Tuffy" Coppel will be admitted. The Machinists reported a win of the game 2 to 1 to The News, but the Bronze has protested. If the Bronze had of won, the softball title would have been theirs, but if the Machinists are awarded the game, a series will have to be played as it would make the Machinists second-half champions.

The Bronze won the first-half title. The disputed incident was a thrown ball by an outfielder over the head of the right-shortstop into left field allowing a runner to score. First one team and then the other walked off the field, thus creating a big confusion, and making it difficult for the umpires to render a decision.

Pro Football Game At Pittsburgh Ends 30 To 28, Green Bay Trips Bears

(International News Service)

The Green Bay Packers and the Cleveland Browns were out in front today in the National Football league as the result of victories, respectively, over the Chicago Bears and the newly combined Chicago Cardinal-Pittsburgh Steeler eleven.

The Packers drove the shell-out crowd of 25,000 in the Green Bay city stadium practically hysterical with joy yesterday by defeating the favored Bears 42 to 28 after the Chicagoans had rallied from a 28 to 0 deficit to tie the score at 28-28.

The Cleveland Rams, returning to action after a season's lay-off, shipped the Card-Steeler combination 30 to 28, after the lead had changed three times previously in the struggle at Forbes field, Pittsburgh, before 20,968 spectators.

STOCK MARKET MOVES HIGHER

Rail Equipment Shares Lead In Market Rise Today; Grains And Cotton Stronger

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(INS)—The stock market moved higher today in fair trading volume led by a rise in rail equipment shares. A sharp spurt in the grain and cotton markets also favored the firm undertone.

Cotton advanced as much as $5 a bale on reports the government would acquire the 1944 crop at full parity price. The buying spree spread to the grain pits where prices whirled 2 to 3 cents a bushel higher for wheat, corn, oats, and rye.

Rail equipments got a lift from news that foreign buyers would be active bidders for new cars and locomotives after the war. The French government is said to be in the U. S. market for $100,000,000 of rail equipment.

Lima Locomotive pushed up more than a point to new 1944 high. American car and Foundry and American Locomotive moved up large fractions.

Elsewhere in the big board list fractional gains were the rule. Santa Fe improved 1/4. Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Steel, and Bethlehem Steel edged forward. Pepsi-Cola was easier. Small gains were recorded in coppers, amusements and lenders. Johns-Manville was up point.

President's Speech Draws Comment

State Republican Leaders
Give Vent To Ideas
About His Address

HARRISBURG, Sept. 25.—(INS)—President Roosevelt's Saturday night speech opening his campaign for a fourth term elicited sharp comments today from top flight Pennsylvania Republicans.

State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor.

"Once again he promises us a heaven on earth. He had 11 years to do it and failed. It took a war to put us all to work. The people of this country will not fall for the same siren song this time. It wasn't a speech; it was a humorous monologue."

U. S. Senator James J. Davis, candidate for re-election:

"Mr. Roosevelt's speech was distinctive in one respect. It wasn't made during an inspection of military installations, war plants or from the poop deck of a battleship. His gay hilarity and optimism for a future under the New Deal prove that Mr. Roosevelt is still the great showman who has mastered the art of saying many things without saying anything."

National Committeeman M. Mason Dwyer:

"As a political document it was a sorry flop. The president used more quips and gags than six professional funny men. Bob Hope and Milton Berle have a new rival."

State Sen. G. Harold Watkins, candidate for auditor-general:

"It was very appropriate that Mr. Roosevelt should start his campaign before the teamsters union after all his talk about 'not changing horses in the middle of the stream.' However, any teamster knows it is often necessary to change horses in order to safely cross the stream. That is what the American people are going to do on November 7."

CRAVING

Sometimes a person will have a craving for a certain food. If this craving happens only occasionally and does not last very long, perhaps it is all right. Sometimes a person has a craving for water and has to drink a large amount every day. This usually means that there is trouble somewhere. There should be a medical examination with laboratory tests. This will usually find the trouble if there is any.

Any unusual or excessive craving for food may mean that there is something wrong somewhere.

A medical examination is needed. A good appetite is a fine thing. Over eating is bad.

Obesity or over weight is a very dangerous condition. It is due to eating more food than the body needs.

Little Christmas Seen In Britain

LONDON, Sept. 25.—(INS)—There'll be nothing extra from Santa Claus for British kids this year—even if victory should come soon.

London's toy shops and the toy departments of the big stores are already taking stock in readiness for a possible Victory Christmas but they are not optimistic about the prospects.

In fact, judging by the present toy situation, the kids look like having little which will make Christmas 1944 stand out from other years.

There will be no special release of metal which could be turned into more durable toys, so choice of children's presents will be similar if not more restricted than last year.

The standard of wooden toys has improved but the main lines are likely to comprise games of all descriptions, soft "cuddly" toys and constructional kits.

Purple Heart Winner Back In New Castle

Lee Rictor Honorably Discharged
After Being Wounded By
'Bouncing Baby' Explosion

Victim of a "bouncing baby" land mine in Sicily, Pvt. Lee R. Rictor has received an honorable discharge from the army after spending six months in Deshon General hospital recovering from his wounds.

Much penicillin was used to save the life of the soldier who had been wounded in seven different places when the mine blew up under the amphibious truck in which he was hauling supplies to the front lines. Decorated with the Purple Heart, Pvt. Rictor was returned to the United States in September, 1943, and was treated first at Halloran General hospital on Staten Island.

These "bouncing babies" are mines which shoot into the air for four or five feet and then explode, scattering about five hundred pieces of shrapnel in all directions. The accident may have looked funny to others, Pvt. Rictor says grimly, but not to him.

A combat engineer with the army for three years, he has now returned to his former job with the Johnson Bronze company.

War Books Tops On Student Lists

Boys Sift Book Report Lists For War Adventures, Librarians Find;
Girls Like 'Em Too

Your young boys conferring in ardent whispers in one of the reading rooms of the public library aren't really that excited about a book, the librarians explain patiently. They're merely trying to decide, since they must stick to their school reading lists for book reports, just which of the books would be an improvement on the others.

Sooner or later, continue the librarians, they will come out with R. A. Wilson's "Aces Wild" or Richard Tregaskis' "Guadalcanal Diary" or "They Were Expendable" by W. L. White. Wartime adventures have topped the list with high school students, becoming as popular with boys as romances are with the girls.

Sidelines with the boys are still aviation stories, and with the girls it's career books. Both the future flyers and the career women like animal stories, however, the librarians say. Albert Payson Terhune's dog stories and Mary O'Hara's "My Friend Flicka" are always on demand.

Two Local Flyers Back In Country

Two New Castle men, First Lt. Norman Shapiro and S. Sgt. David W. Robison, have returned from service overseas and are now being processed at army air forces redistribution station No. 2 in Miami Beach.

Sgt. Robison, a B-24 gunner, flew 15 missions during nine months in the European theater, winning the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with three clusters and a Presidential Unit Citation. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis A. Robison, R. D. 5.

Lt. Shapiro, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Shapiro, 1327 Moravia street, flew 51 missions during four months as a bombardier-navigator on a B-24. He has received the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with three oak leaf clusters.

Fear Huge Black Market For Gas

HARRISBURG, Sept. 25.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Motor Federation asserted today that government failure to boost gasoline allotments for "A" card holders after the defeat of Germany would create a gigantic black market beyond federal control.

"The vast majority of ration holders are in the 'A' classification," said Manager R. B. Maxwell, "and they feel that the first loosening up on gasoline should come their way."

Simultaneously, the federation released a report by the parent American Automobile Association predicting "B" card motorists as well as trucks and buses would benefit first from relaxed restrictions.

Greentree Stables Owner Dies Sunday

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(INS)—Mrs. Helen Hay Whitney, multi-millionaire sportswoman who died yesterday at the age of 68, will be buried tomorrow from her Manhattan, L. I., home.

Widow of the late Payne Whitney, the wealthy poetess was the daughter of John Hay, President Abraham Lincoln's secretary and later ambassador and secretary of state under President McKinley. As the owner of the famed Greentree Stables, her race horses included the Kentucky Derby winners, Twenty Grand and Shutout.

At one time Mrs. Whitney's husband estate was valued at $239,301,017, before distribution of his bequests.

Makes Off With Bus, Does Not Remember

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(INS)—Police held 19-year-old Edward Roche of Brooklyn today on charges of grand larceny. They said he made off with a city-owned bus while the driver's back was turned.

Roche remembered nothing of the incident, police said, as he had obviously been bending the elbow with enthusiasm until the hour when he decided to take a ride for himself. Pursued by a radio car, Roche whipped through 15 blocks of Brooklyn before stopping. Two passengers, sleepy and slightly bewildered sailors, got off when Roche stopped. With the traditional jauntiness of the navy, they vanished without giving an account of the wild ride.
